Rev. John J. Mahon
Invested as Monsignor
By Bishop Molloy

Parishioners Throng
Church at Solemn Rites;
Will Be Dined Tonight

The Rev. John J. Mahon, pastor of Our Holy Redeemer R. C. Church, who was invested as a monsignor by Bishop Thomas E. Molloy Sunday at rites in the church, will be honored by his congregation at a dinner and reception to be given in the South Shore Yacht Club this evening. Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock to be followed by the reception at 8.

Bishop Molloy paid tribute to the new monsignor at services attended by numerous visiting clergy, including monsignors and attended by more than a thousand parishioners. The bishop said all were deeply appreciative of the elevation of Father Mahon to his new rank by Pope Pius XII, which he added was in a sense a reward for him as a figure of Christ on earth. He spoke of the sanctity of the clergy and referred to the fact Monsignor Mahon has served more than 50 years in the priesthood.

The bishop commented that not only was the monsignor a leader in the religious, but also in the moral and social welfare of the members of his congregation. He commented it was the duty of the priest to administer to the sick and the dying and declared that what had been done for Monsignor Mahon was offered him in reverence, regard and esteem for him.

The prelate expressed the hope that Monsignor Mahon would continue to serve for many years as an ambassador of Christ and in dispersing the ministry of God.

In response, Monsignor Mahon expressed amazement at the interest taken in the honor bestowed on him, saying the general public was more interested than he was himself. He expressed appreciation as the sincere, warm congratulations extended him by the priests of the diocese, and said it had been a source of happiness to him to know the high esteem in which he was held by the community and to note the satisfaction the people had shown in his promotion.

The priest, who studied for his orders in Rome and recently returned to the Holy City following his designation as a monsignor, told of the changes that have taken place in the city during the intervening years. He said that whereas the area adjacent to the Vatican formerly was covered with shacks, these had been removed and the approach to the area beautified and modernized. He told of his audience with the Pope years ago and of the pleasure of the audience he had.

New Police Patrol Wagon
Is Delivered to Garage

Freeport's patrol wagon which dates back to 1929, is to be retired shortly. A new International Truck equipped with special body was delivered at the Municipal Garage Tuesday, and will be placed in commission in a few days.

The "pie wagon" which was first used during the days of the late Chief John W. Hartmann, when the present Chief, Peter Elia, was a lieutenant, has been used as a first aid truck, in taking prisoners to the County Jail in Mineola, and in transporting the men to and from their boats at the changing of shifts.

LEGION STAGING CARNIVAL TO AID ITS WELFARE FUND

A week's carnival is now in progress at West Sunrise Highway and Bayview ave., under the auspices of William Clinton Story Post, A.L. There are many rides in addition to numerous booths. Vice-Commander M. Gordon Simonson heads the committee of arrangements.

The event is for the benefit of the welfare fund, which was greatly reduced by expenditures in connection with the recent pilgrimage to the Kings Park State Hospital.

Freeport-Baldwin Chase Cost
Offender $115 as He Menaces Lives

Leading cops in a merry chase through the village streets is becoming a weekly event like the stock car races at the Stadium. And it is an expensive sport for the offender.

Early Sunday morning Sgt. John D. Grosser was cruising up North Main st., in a department car. Just south of West Lenox ave., he spied a car being driven in a reckless manner. He set out in pursuit as the machine dashed through a red light at Lena ave. The driver increased his speed, shot left into West Lincoln pl., then right into North Ocean ave., and left again into West Seaman ave., weaving around the corners as he failed to slacken his pace.

West on West Seaman the chase continued as the cars neared North Brookside ave. There one car headed in each direction had stopped for a red light. The fleeing driver sped through the light, skirting first one of the standing machines and then the other with Grosser close behind.

On and on the chase continued crossing the Baldwin line. On reaching North Grand ave., the offender turned sharply north, narrowly missing another auto with three persons aboard, as it skidded around the corner. This enabled Sgt. Grosser, who had fired five shots into the air during the chase, to catch up, and bring the pursuit to a halt. After taking the driver into custody, he investigated and found one of the passengers in the car which had just escaped being hit had fainted from shock. The sergeant reported that at times the cars had raced along the streets at more than 75 miles an hour.

Taken to Police Headquarters, the prisoner identified himself as Robert V. Byrne, 23, 158 Whitehouse ave., Roosevelt. Arraigned later in the day before Judge Hilbert R. Johnson, Byrne was charged with speeding, reckless driving and passing red lights to which he pleaded guilty. He was fined a total of $115, as follows: speeding, $50; reckless driving, $50; passing one red light, $5, and second light, $10.

A week ago in a chase following the sidwiping of a car, on South Main st., the offender paid fines aggregating $190.

PROGRESS

Last week's issue of THE LEADER carried six thousand lines of local news and features as compared to less than 4,000 lines in the corresponding issue of a year ago.

Last week THE LEADER carried more than eleven thousand lines of PAID advertising as compared with but eight thousand lines a year ago.

Paid circulation in THE LEADER has more than doubled. Distribution is at an all time high.

For such progress, we sincerely thank you.

Freeport Bay Estates Area
Admitted to Village Limits

The Village Board, at a special meeting Monday night approved the annexation of a small area in the southeastern section of the incorporated village limits. This area is subject to a referendum of the taxpayers living in the area to be taken over from the town of Hempstead but this is regarded as a formality.

The section to be taken in is part of the Freeport Bay Estates and will permit the development of the "East" streets now only indicated on a map of the area.

A hearing was held by the members of the Hempstead Town Board in the home of Oscar J. Alpert, 2 West 4th st., within the area to be annexed, on June 13 on the application for admission as part of the incorporated village. Following the hearing members of the Board signed the petition giving written consent to the request.

In acting on the matter the Village Board instructed Village Engineer Herbert M. Wood to prepare an outline map of the corporate limits as extended to describe the territory annexed. This map is to be filed in the office of the Secretary of State in Albany.

A petition requesting the creation of a Lateral Sewer District of the Freeport Bay Estates section was circulated recently. At its last meeting the Sewer Commission delayed action on the petition because the annexation proceedings were pending and it was thought the new area might be included in the district. If this is done a new petition will have to be circulated.

Village Realizes
$12,726 from June
Events at Stadium

Two Months Total Is $20,492.26, Exceeding 1949 Record by $1,294

If the attendance at the various events being conducted at the Municipal Stadium continues as it has during May and June, the record receipts of more than $25,000 for 1949 will be exceeded by a substantial margin this year.

The village derived an income of $12,726.03 for June, which with $7,766.23 added for May, makes a total of $20,492.26. The figures for the corresponding months last year were $5,975.64 and $12,312.06 respectively, totaling $18,287.70, putting 1950 ahead by $1,204.56. With two women drivers as an attraction a new Tuesday night attendance mark was set at the stock car races this week with 4,768 paying customers on hand.

The record attendance figures are due to the unbelievable luck of Jacob Keddenburg, promoter of the stock and midget races, in that not a single racing has had to be postponed by the weather to date. Attendance at all events during June totaled 65,319, led by stock cars with 37,729 for eight nights of racing, 15,938 for four midgets, 10,253 for two nights of a thrill show and 400 for girls' baseball which has failed to catch the local fancy in the Sunday night contest.

The income from the stock car races for the month was $4,766.01, the midgets, $1,851.31, the thrill show, $2,448.71, the girls' baseball, $345.00, and the two women drivers, $1,100.20 from baseball, $282.29 from the L. & L. Distributors.

June 17 proved the biggest night of stock car racing when the attendance hit 7,602 netting $1,083.46 for the municipality, followed by June the 19th with 7,520 paid customers yielding the village $1,055.79.

Attendance at the midgets, which substantially fell off week by week. The figures were as follows: June 6, 4,499; 16th, 3,954; 23rd, 3,786; and 30th, 3,209. The proceeds were $336.75; $450.31; $427.12 and $337.53 respectively.

S. S. POWER SQUADRON

Circus Benefit Netted Nassau Legion $30,759

Money Divided Among Posts on Percentage Of Tickets They Sold

With the completion of its audit and the settlement of all accounts, the presentation of Ringling Brothers-Barium and Bailey Circus at Westbury on June 9 and 10, last, netted a profit of $30,759.44 for the furtherance of American Legion sponsored disabled veteran welfare projects in Nassau County. Announcement of the profit figure was made at a meeting called by the sponsoring group, the Manhasset Legion Memorial Fund, for the purpose of distributing the apportioned fund among the 48 participating legion posts in Nassau County which collaborated in the sale of tickets for the big benefit event. The meeting was held at the Strathmore-Vanderbilt Country Club at Manhasset.

While the financial results appeared highly gratifying to the participants, those close to the management conceded the profit was below their hopes and attributed the fact that the four performances were not a "sell-out" to the high scale price of reserved seats. Public reluctance, shown in the failure to dispose of substantial blocks of six dollar tickets, supports this opinion, it was said.

The cost of the circus itself, due to the nature of the expensive move and by reason of the reluctance of circus officials to show in an untried area, took the largest share of the gross income, followed by repayment of the underwriting advanced by William Levitt, Long Island builder. Members of the Board of Directors of the Manhasset Legion Memorial Fund said expenses for promotion and management of the event, aside from those functions normally carried on by the circus, were held to a minimum figure. The only employees were the members of the small management organization.

Funds were apportioned to the participating legion posts on a percentage basis of sales by each individual post. The board expressed its deep appreciation for the cooperation of the posts, without which, it said, the event would not have been a success. At the same

Hofstra to Refund Fees to Draftees

A plan to turn back unused tuition to college men drafted after starting the college term, plus partial credit for courses begun but not completed before the draft call, has been made effective at Hofstra College by a recent ruling of the faculty council. M. C. Old, dean of the faculty, announced today.

After five weeks' attendance in regular courses which normally run 15 weeks, the student who is drafted into the armed forces will receive one-third of the credit which he would normally earn with satisfactory marks. A proportionate amount of tuition would be refunded. At the end of 10 weeks' attendance, two-thirds of the maximum credit for a course will be allowed. The new Hofstra ruling, Dean Old said, is intended to give college men who are uncertain how soon their academic training may be interrupted by the Korean war an incentive for using to good purpose the time that might be lost in merely waiting for a draft call.

He pointed out that the Dean of Students office which maintained a Veterans' office during World War II, will again serve as an information center for the gathering and dissemination of any available facts pertaining to the status of college men in the draft.

LEADER PAYS SOUTH SHORE Y. C. VISIT

At a moment of a dull moment at the South Shore Yacht Club under the leadership of Commodore Carl A. Schutter and his very efficient committees. For example, this coming week-end, Saturday afternoon the juvenile swimmers, sons and daughters of the members, will journey to Amityville, to endeavor to get revenge for having been defeated in a previous aquatic meet. And Monte Carlo Nite will be observed at night. Sunday there will be a regatta for sail and small boats followed by a smorgasbord supper from 5 to 9 P. M.

Organized about 45 years ago, the club is at the zenith of its successful career with a membership of 250 men. Add to these the wives and other women folk of the members and the younger generation and one has an idea of the large number of persons who are engaging in the various activities offered by the club.

The tennis courts are popular and the yachts of the members are debarking and returning to the club docks almost continuously. Another activity is the issuance of a monthly mimeographed publication, "The Scuttlebutt," containing detailed all accounts of events held and to be held. This is in charge of Alan Carver, as editor.

William Devlin is chairman of the athletics committee, and Mrs. Agnes McAndrews is coach for the juveniles who comprising the swimming team.

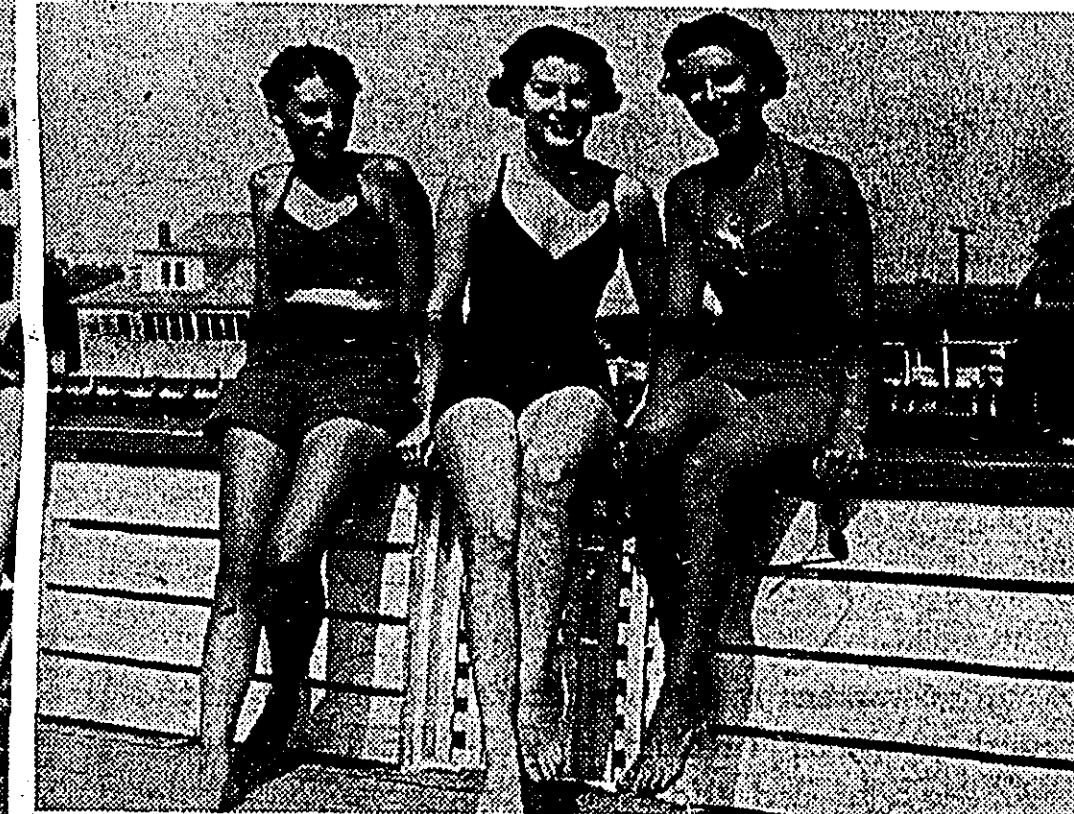

Other committee chairmen are Eugene Baldwin, tennis; Andrew McCarville, entertainment; Mr. Carver, regatta; Thomas N. DeGiacomo, house; William McDuffy, beach; Edward Steenken, grounds; and George Storms, membership.

Besides Commodore Schutter, the officers are A. H. Thompson, vice-commodore; Ralph P. Schley, rear commodore; Ivar O. B. Areskog, treasurer; Mr. Steenken, financial secretary, and Alexander Parlini, recording secretary.

Below in this relaxed circle are Mrs. William McDuffy, legal ace Jack Woods, William McDuffy and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas.

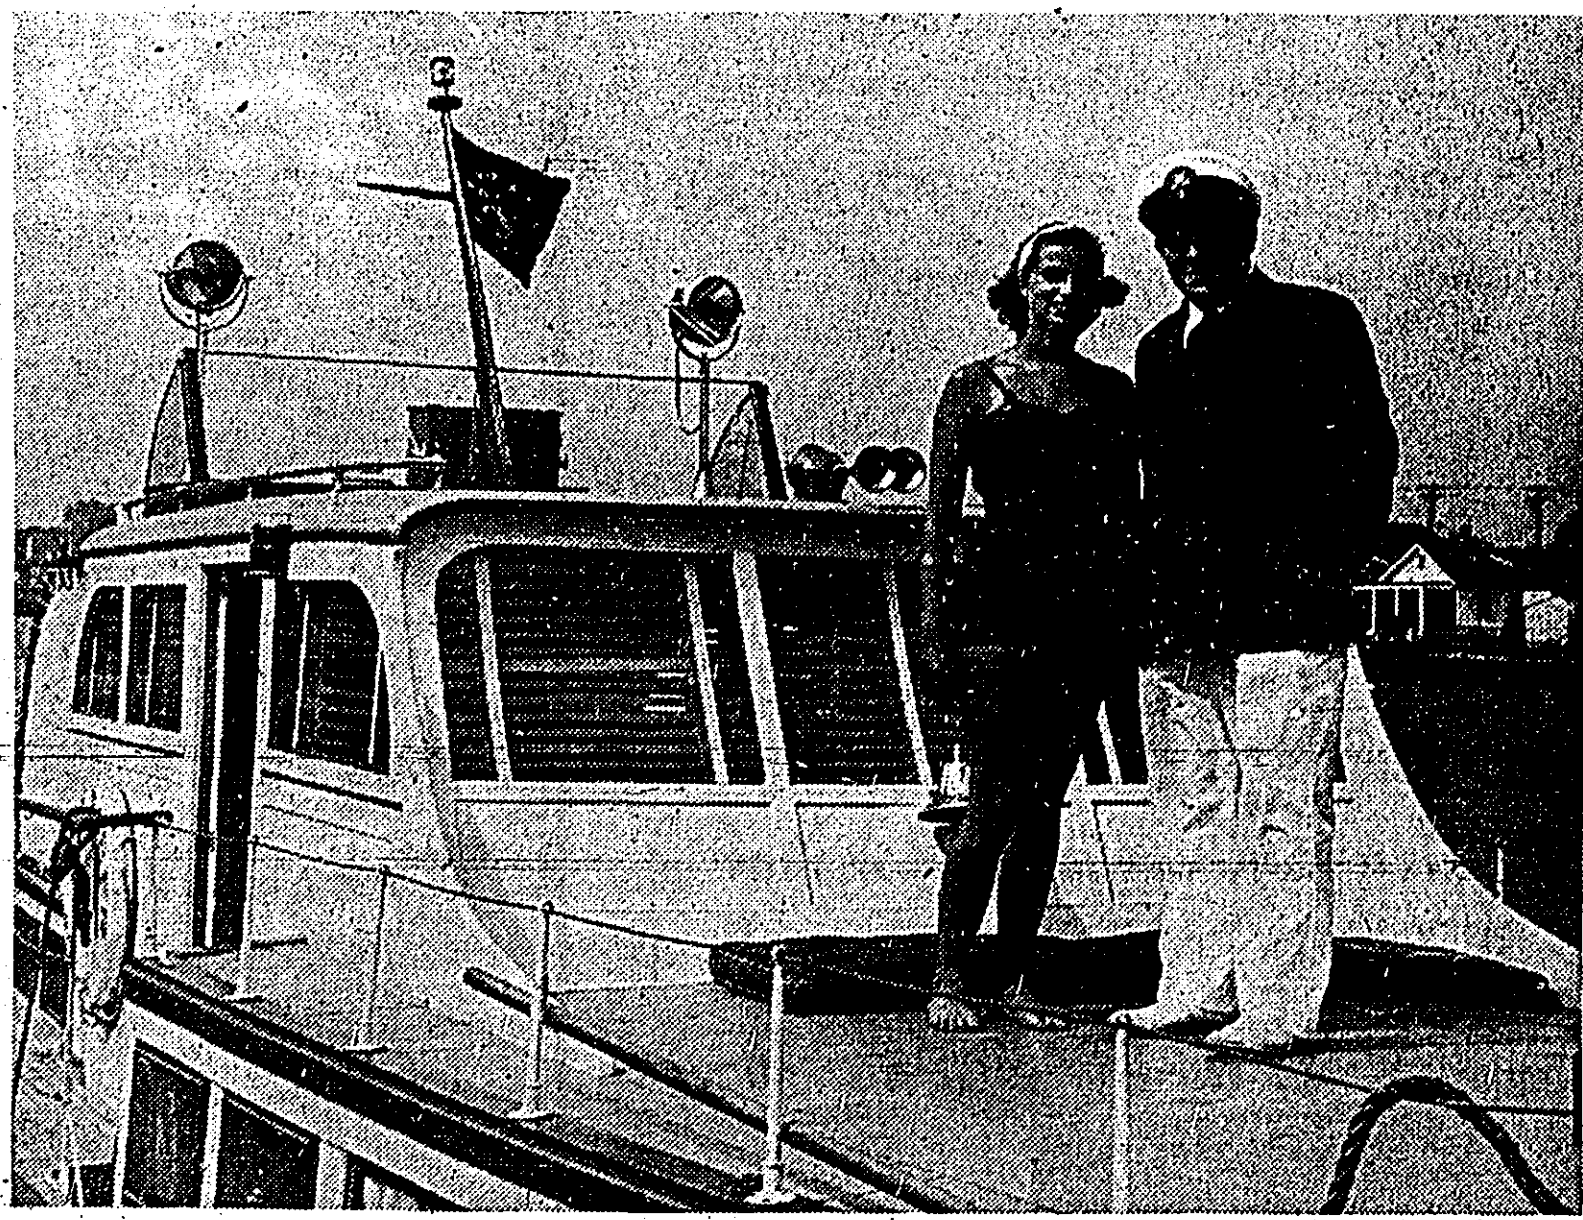

Tennis is a great activity at the South Shore Yacht Club. This younger group receives instruction from Tommy Fray. That's Mr. Alan Carver (top center) who is often called in to umpire.

Three of the South Shores loveliest mermaids Misses Pat Mackenzie, Lois Mac Lean and Harriet Seebach take time out to be photographed by THE LEADER.

Misses Charlotte Carver, Nancy Andel and Barbara Breen make a very cute picture on the deck of the South Shore Yacht Club.

The life of a Commodore has many obligations such as explaining navigation to lovely Barbara Breen.

Jane Wyman Says Gab Is No Gift, But Treasures Art Of Listening

Film actress Jane Wyman says she's convinced that women talk too much and cites her picture "Johnny Belinda" as proof. According to Jane, that's the movie in which people liked her most—and in which she played the part of a girl who couldn't talk at all.

"I realize," writes Miss Wyman in the July issue of "Cosmopolitan" magazine, "that a girl does not lose dignity by silence. She loses it by talking for the obvious purpose of just saying something."

Pointing out that a girl undermines a man's feeling of dominance if she talks incessantly, the actress says she has won half the battle if she restrains her desire to talk. "To win the other half," she adds, "the girl must help the man start talking, and in such a way that she enjoys being a good listener."

As a conversation starter, Miss Wyman suggests that a girl ask casual questions about a man's business or profession, his home town, or his background.

A firm believer in the theory that you can listen your way out of trouble more easily than you can talk your way out, Jane says, "I've seen more arguments won by listening than by shouting."

There's only one time when this actress doesn't believe in being a good listener. It's when it comes to gossip. "I have disliked gossip as long as I can remember," she says. "I never indulge in it." To such questions as, "Did you know," Miss Wyman replies, "No, I don't know, and I don't see how you do. Let's talk about something we know about."

Property Owners Oppose No. Grand Avenue Stores

Decision on rezoning the property at the northwest corner of Stowe and Grand aves. Baldwin has been reserved by the Hempstead Town Board.

Petition by the Gresa Realty Co. for the change from residence B to business was strenuously objected to, with sixty property owners present to support their spokesman, Francis A. Fullam Jr. of 6 West Stanton ave. at a recent hearing. Mr. Fullam filed an objecting petition signed by 141 property owners in the section, claiming that stores would be a nuisance.

James F. Conway of Rockville Centre, attorney for the realty company said stores with off-street parking would be built on the property, when and if the change was granted.

Meadow Brook National Bank Offers $500 In Prizes In Photo Contest

Amateur Photographers throughout Long Island will have a chance to win more than $500 in prizes when a photo contest, which is being sponsored by the Meadow Brook National Bank, gets under way on Aug. 15.

In an effort to link the past with the present, the bank has set up the contest in two classifications with duplicate prizes to be awarded in each class. Proud of its links with the past, the bank has entitled its first class, "Scenes of the historic Meadow Brook and its environs."

The Meadow Brook, a picturesque stream which dates back to pre-revolutionary days, winds its way from Westbury and East Hempstead to Freeport and the tidewater lands of Nassau's southern shore. The Brook parallels the Meadowbrook Parkway, to Jones Beach, and is the dividing line between Freeport and Merrick, first served by the Meadow Brook National Bank. It is from this historic landmark that the bank took its name.

But equally as important as the past, are the present and the future, and the Meadow Brook National Bank, which now has an office in West Hempstead, as well as in Freeport and Merrick, has chosen as the second classification of its photo contest, "Pictures of Children" who represent both the present and future of the Long Island community.

The contest will be run in four consecutive three-week periods. First, second and third prizes will be awarded in each classification at the end of each period. The period prizes will be a $25 Bond, $10 and $5 in cash. At the end of the contest, three grand prize winners will be selected from the twelve winners in each classification. And, first, second and third prizes will be awarded in the form of a $100, $50 and a $25 bonds. Period winners will be announced within ten days after the close of each contest.

The names of the judges together with their photographic backgrounds will be published before the end of the first period of the contest. Entry blanks together with the rules and regulations are available now at any of the three offices of the Meadow Brook National Bank located in Freeport, Merrick and West Hempstead. This material may also be obtained, by writing to the Photo Contest Manager, Meadow Brook National Bank, Merrick Office, Merrick, N. Y.

Midshipman Price Quits Ship at San Francisco

Midshipman Gerald M. Price, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Price, Freeport, N. Y., a sophomore at the University of Rochester, was disembarked Monday from the heavy cruiser USS St. Paul at San Francisco, Cal., after participating in the six-week Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps Senior-Sophomore Cruise to Hawaii and San Diego.

During the cruise the midshipman received practical experience and instructions in all phases of shipboard work usually performed by officers and enlisted men of the Regular Navy. The highlight of the training program took place in Southern California waters during the last week when midshipmen manned and fired all guns of the ship.

During the ship's visit to Pearl Harbor, Hawaii and San Diego, Cal., training was conducted on a modified basis to permit attendance of midshipmen at social functions arranged for their entertainment and to allow visits to places of interest ashore.

YOUTH DAY IS PLANNED AT 2D BAPTIST CHURCH

Youth Day is to be observed at the Second Baptist Church Sunday, with the pastor, the Rev. R. G. Harris, preaching at 11 A.M., on "Take Your Rightful Place in Life." The Rev. H. T. Batton, of Jamaica, will deliver the evening sermon.

A jubilee convention under the direction of Mrs. Hattie Hammond is being conducted this week. Wednesday night there will be outdoor "movies" for the benefit of the Young Center fund. On Saturday, Aug. 12, the young people will be taken by bus to Rye Park, Westchester, for an outing.

Pastor Harris has appealed to the officers and members of the church to pray three times a day for world peace.

PORTER AND TUCKER ENTER LEHIGH IN FALL

BETHLEHEM, PA., Aug. 1—Kenneth M. Porter, 234 Porterfield pl., and Frank N. Tucker, Jr., 233 Whaley st., Freeport, N. Y., are among the 600 freshmen who have been accepted at Lehigh University this fall. Porter is entering the College of Arts and Sciences, and Tucker, the Industrial Engineering Curriculum, Byron C. Hayes, director of admissions, announced today. The incoming class will come from 14 states and Canada, China, Hawaii, and Venezuela.

The Freshman Week program will begin Tuesday, Sept. 12. Registration for classes is scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 20.

Know 'Signs of Life' Advice to Motorists

Chief Elar and Safety Council Join August Information Campaign

This was Chief Peter Elar's warning to Freeport drivers today in support of the Safety Council's recently announced August program of highway safety education. "Although the importance of knowing and obeying traffic signs may seem almost too basic to mention," Chief Elar said, "the number of drivers today who don't know the difference between a 'Stop' sign and a 'Slow' sign is startling."

Re-educating the driving-public to the forms and meanings of various highway signs, and the consequences they face in not recognizing them, the Council announced, is the motivation for this month's public information program.

In 1948, Chief Elar said, "for every 100 drivers involved in a fatal accident, there were 22 instances of a sign, signal, or traffic officer having been over-looked or deliberately ignored. No traffic violation can be more flagrant than one of this nature."

The Council pointed out that most drivers are only aware that highway signs come in several shapes and colors and pay scant attention to the significance of these differences.

All highway signs fall into five groups, Chief Elar added. Three of these shapes have exclusive uses. The round, octagonal, and cross-back signs means "railroad approach," "stop," and "caution—railroad," respectively.

The other two basic sign shapes, he pointed out, are more general in nature. Diamond-shaped signs, he commented, are fundamentally symbols of an approaching condition that might be dangerous, and are advisory in nature. Tote this group fall the curve warnings the "slippery when wet" notices, and so forth.

The oblong signs, however, according to the Commission, have the teeth of the law in them and must be obeyed. These signs include speed limits, no-passing, no U-turn, and similar signs.

The slogan, "Know Your Signs of Life" has been selected by the Safety Group to publicize its traffic safety education efforts this month.

How Pay For It?

A one eyed man can see that the United States is faced with an international crisis that is staggering in its possibilities. The war in Korea may be settled in a comparatively brief time or the war in Korea may be the spark that will inflame the whole world.

If we are so lucky as to settle the situation in Korea in short order, what assurance have we of a lasting peace?

We must be ready for whatever happens. That means a defense program of monumental proportions.

If the Korean war is not brief, we shall go on and on in an expanding tragedy of World War Three, with expense for armament that none of us can envision.

In either contingency we are faced with the need of money and more money.

Money by the billions, not the millions.

The President knows this, the Congress knows this, and we know it.

It is a matter that is generally conceded.

The billions we'll be needing for arms, whether this war is now in its short or lengthy, are inconceivable.

How can we meet such an obligation?

Many of us have not shared the concept for a Welfare State.

We have fought public housing, when private enterprise should have been encouraged.

We have watched the United States take over banking, as an emergency measure, and hang on to it to the present day.

We have seen the government get into the power business and discourage private ownership.

We have seen the government get into agriculture.

The government is invading the field of education, telling us what we can teach and how and to whom.

The government has been building hospitals and now proposes to get into the realm of medicine.

The government is in every business in the land.

And in the meantime our taxes are mounting higher and higher.

Can we support the crew of this Welfare State, and conduct a World War, too?

Is there enough money in all the world to carry on such a Welfare State, and at the same time a defense program of world-wide dimensions?

Ought we not choose between the two?

We must fight in Korea.

We must preserve the American way of life or completely lose our liberties.

And we must pay for this fight, whatever the cost.

But for the Welfare State which many feel is just a watered down version of Communism.

Must we pay for this, too?

Do we want it?

While we are fighting with our lives for the American Way of life in Korea . . . can we do less at home?

The Editor's Notebook

Harry Truman has knocked the chip off Joe Stalin's shoulder and we're waiting for the reaction.

This is one time President Truman has the undivided support of all Americans. Joe should know that in the U.S.A. the Democrats and Republicans are just training when they stage those domestic fights. If the guy across the street butts in, he gets the bum's rush from both sides.

The $64 question now seems to hinge on whether Moscow wants to or is prepared to wage a large-scale war at this time.

Calling the Communist's cards now is the best possible chance for preventing the third world war.

We have told Russia in effect "Put up or shut up."

Now it is up to Russia. We have a better chance to avoid another world war than if we had followed the other policy.

If there is to be a war, let's not put it off to suit Russia's convenience.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Sir:

The page of pictures in this week's LEADER was very good. It is quite an innovation for a small town paper such as THE LEADER to devote a complete page of pictures to a news story but it was very interesting and shows good newspaper judgment. Continued good wishes.

James McCarthy

Dear Sir:

The editorial "How Loyal Are We?" was right on the button. Too many people who call themselves loyal Americans are without thinking acting very disloyal in hoarding. We have all seen instances of housewives buying more sugar etc. than they need normally, and I've already known of instances where some stores were without sugar. I believe it might be possible for our stores too, to be careful in permitting people to buy far beyond their normal requirements. I don't like rationing, but if people continue to hoard, we certainly will have rationing all over again.

Mrs. Walter Beckman

Dear Sir:

Both the ads by HILL'S MARKET and the A & P regarding prices on foodstuffs appearing in THE LEADER this week were splendid. I shows very good judgment on the part of these large organizations to point out such facts and I feel they should be commended for it. Your editorial on "Hoarding" was one of the best I've read in any paper, and during the week I saw a lot of newspapers come into our home.

Mrs. William Boynton

Dear Sir:

Your paper has "gone all out" in advising the people about the new grade crossing plans but I have yet to read one bit of copy as yet to when this improvement will start. I suppose with the war program recently started, we will have to wait for many, many years before this gets underway. Do you have any information covering this?

John Altshul

Dear Sir:

What are you a democrat or a republican? In your paper the other day I read one paragraph in the EDITOR'S NOTEBOOK which seemed to ridicule the Republican party, and in the very next paragraph you were poking fun at the Democrats. Of course, you are constantly slandering the Communists so we know you are not a "fellow traveler" but some day I'd like to figure out if you are a "Fair Dealer" or a conservative old Republican.

B.D.

Editor's Note:

Maybe this week's editorial will clear you up on the point of the "Fair Deal" or "Welfare State" and as for my being a conservative Old Republican, I won't celebrate my 90th birthday for several years. You are right about the "fellow traveler" business.

'1950 Miss Coastline' Contest Is Announced

A tri-county beauty contest to select "Miss Coastline of 1950" is under way for women of Queens, Nassau and Suffolk Counties. Either single or married women are eligible to enter the contest. Several weeks of preliminary contests will be held before the finals, at Rockaway Playland, in Rockaway Beach, Saturday Aug. 26, at 2:00 P.M.

Any woman desiring to enter the contest may submit a picture of herself attired in a bathing suit and supply the following information on the back of the photograph: Name, Address, telephone number, age, married or single, weight, height, bust, waist and hips. Entries must be mailed to Hickory Associates, 489 Fifth Ave., New York 17, N.Y. Room 609.

The contest is being sponsored by Coastline Industries, Inc., of Astoria, and an array of valuable prizes will be awarded to the winner and the four runners-up.

The judges will include such prominent persons as Harry Conover, model expert; Tom Govereale, picture editor of the New York Daily Mirror; Eddie Senz, 20th Century-Fox make-up artist; Joe Holton, 20th Century-Fox talent scout and Pat Allen, Director of the Pat Allen Model Agency. Celebrities of stage and screen will be on hand to assist the judges.

THE FAMILY CIRCLE

How to treat Young America.

Brief advice to parents.

Treat your boys as though they were of some importance if you would have them manly and self-reliant. Be careful of the little courtesies. You cannot expect your boy to be respectful, thoughtful and kind unless you set him the example.

If you would have your boy to make you his confidante take an active interest in all he does. Don't be too critical, and ask his views and opinions at all times.

Don't keep your boy in ignorance of things he should know. It is not the wholesome truth, but the unwholesome way in which it is acquired that ruins many a young man.

Don't act as if your boy amounted to nothing, or be continually making comparisons between him and some neighbor's son to his disadvantage; nothing will dishearten him quicker.

Don't think that anything is good enough for the boys, and that they don't care for the things, have their rooms fixed up as nicely as possible; let them understand it is to be kept in order, and the result will justify your pains.

Furnish the boy with good wholesome reading matter. Have him to read to, and with you. Discuss with him what you read, and draw out his opinions and thoughts upon the subject. Help him to think clearly for himself.

Make home a pleasant place; see to it that the boys don't have to go elsewhere to secure proper freedom and congenial companionship. Take time and pains to make them feel comfortable and contented, and they will want to spend their evenings at home.

Pick your son's associates. See that you know his friends. Take an interest in all his troubles and pleasures. Have him perfectly free to invite his friends to the house. Take pains to make his friends comfortable and happy. He will not be slow to appreciate it.

A "major" problem of our nation "Juvenile Delinquency" often begins at home, with "Parental Delinquency."

The sea of crime must not break through the "dikes" of America.

One great "dike" is the Christian Home.

Another, the Church.

How to Attract New Industries to Freeport

AND VICINITY

CHAPTER IX

GO AHEAD DESPITE WAR

This is the ninth in this series of articles intended to stimulate interest in the economic growth of Freeport and surrounding villages of this part of the south shore. The material which has been published in this series would also be suitable for publication in other papers and applied in other places. Although we have, to some degree, tried to specifically key our suggestions to the area of our circulation, it is of a nature which already has proven effective in other communities.

For those who are serious in their desire to participate in conducting a sound constructive program for their community, we have again a recommendation. You can obtain a pamphlet from the Regional Office of the New York State Department of Commerce, Mineola, L.I. which contains an easy to follow guide in constructing and presenting a program for industrial development.

This 29 page booklet "Community Industrial Development" is one of a series which have been published to assist the communities of New York State in producing a sound future for themselves. In addition to the pamphlet, John Deming, the Regional Manager and business consultant has effectively aided several of Nassau Counties communities in attracting industry.

The Long Island Association, headed by President Arthur Roth has a most effective program for industrial development. The Industrial Committee, which for the past year has been headed by Harry Matthews, president of Brown & Matthews, has induced a number of high type industries to select Nassau County for their new plant location. Both of these organizations are ready and eager to be of assistance to any community that is sincerely trying to produce an effective result.

The civic associations of the south shore in cooperation with business and trade associations can accomplish a great deal toward increasing our security by starting right now to develop our "Program of Progress."

A few persons, while discussing the prospects for attracting industry to Freeport, predicted that the current world situation would reduce the chances a program of this type would have for success. Because, it is possible some of our readers may have considered this conclusion and wondered as to the possible effect war may have upon our industrial possibilities, we present some logical arguments in favor of going ahead stronger than ever.

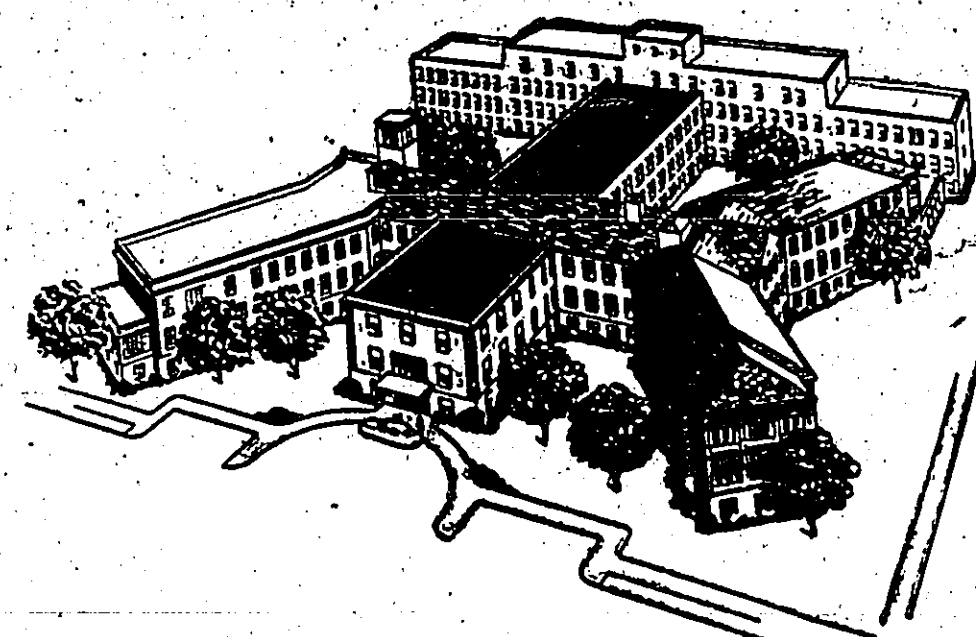

Let's take a look at the record.

Probably the greatest expansion of industry on Long Island occurred during World War II. It was at this period in history that Grumman, Republic, Fairchild and Sperry Gyroscope expanded by leaps and bounds. With their expansion came hundreds of new manufacturing firms. Many of these were sub-contractors to the larger aircraft and instrument manufacturers. Other types of firms, many serving the needs of the firms dealing in aircraft or instruments, also found Long Island a profitable place in which to locate a plant. With the current possibility of another war, we should have an even stronger attraction to industry. Our superb labor market and close proximity to the purchaser of industrial goods alone can be of such great value as to assure this to be an ideal location.

Unfortunately we do not seem to be taking any direct action in this matter. Perhaps we are waiting for the Long Island Association or the State Dept. of Commerce to do this for us. It is not intended that we should become unduly impatient in our desire for results. However, one cannot escape the immediacy of our situation nor can we afford to delay.

The longer it takes us to get started the fewer opportunities will be available to locate the most desirable manufacturers here. We believe the need for aggressive action is higher than ever before. We will welcome the opportunity to report in this paper the action now being taken by any organization or individual working toward these objectives.

Architect's Idea of Hospital Additions

Completed plans for the $1,250,000 additions to the South Nassau Communities Hospital as envisioned by the architect.

Arthristis Patient Leaves Hospital

After Being Treated With Cortesone

A note of hope and encouragement tempered with a word of caution to all sufferers from arthritis was sounded recently at South Nassau Communities Hospital, as the first patient discharged from a Nassau County Hospital following treatment for the malady with the new drug, Cortesone, left the institution.

The patient, Mrs. Harold M. Parker, of Cold Spring Hills, Huntington, said, "Following injections of this wonderful drug, I was free from pain for the first time in four years. It seems unbelievable that once more I can stand erect and bend my knees."

Miss Mary Pearson, the superintendent, congratulated Mrs. Parker on her amazing response to this new drug. To the many persons afflicted with arthritis she expressed a note of warning.

"Doctors on our staff tell us that this drug is not always as effective as it has been with Mrs. Parker," said Miss Pearson. "Distributed through hospitals, Cortesone is now available in limited quantities at considerable cost. We understand, however, that larger quantities will be available sometime before the end of this year," Miss Pearson concluded.

South Nassau Communities Hospital, first to discharge an arthritic patient treated with Cortesone, has been the place of other "firsts" in

The Leader Bookshelf

By MRS. ELIZABETH F. KELLY

"Quest of the Desert," by Roy Chapman Andrews (Viking Press $2.50). Well-guarded by the black Alsatian shepherd dog Wolf, Jack Benton leader and other members of the American Robt. Desert expedition began their explorations of the desert by motor car, in 1920. It was proven from the very start that the expedition would be in need of protection and with increasing dangers enroute, the need became even greater.

The object of the expedition was to "reconstruct the past history of the great plateau," and through scientific discoveries the men hoped to bring this about. They might have expected to meet with hostile natives, but their predictions had not included finding an underground vault, in the center of a mountain—perhaps the grave of Genghis Kahn!

When "Hopalong" the little Mongol joined the expedition, due to existing conditions he became, not only a true friend of the explorers, but also a guide, drawing a map of the country to the West and giving advice as to their travels. In was he who was given the duty to avenge the wrong which had been committed against his people, a privilege which brought him great happiness.

Although fiction, the "Quest of the Desert" is based on real experiences of the author, who is well-known as an explorer and as staff member and later Director of the American Museum of Natural History. He was the first person to take motor cars into the Gobi Desert. Mr. Andrews has dedicated this book of adventures for young people "To the Memory of Wolf, who for ten years shared almost every hour of my life."

With CARPET PRICES actually ZOOMING higher and higher, the CARPET MART OF HEMPSTEAD brings fantastic, amazing REDUCTIONS at all prices on all of our present stock. On display you'll find every style . . . every pattern . . . high priced . . . low priced . . . medium priced . . . twists and plains . . . axminsters . . . velvets . . . florals . . . hooks . . . every type . . . in 9, 12, 15 and 18 ft. widths for rugs or WALL TO WALL installation. NOTE: if you need carpeting, PLEASE don't take this as an ORDINARY SALES AD. Mill and wholesale PRICES of carpets really ARE CLIMBING. There have been 5 price increases in the last year. These increases are legitimate because there is no more RAW WOOL. Even before the Korean War, which just aggravated the situation, there was no more RAW WOOL. You can buy at savings now that may never be repeated again.
